

GAME RESULTS FOR JULY 15, 2010

I managed to create a little less confusion this week as compared to last week. It is important to keep some confusion otherwise the game will be too easy for you guys. Personally, I did not find the "in the box" game appealing and would be inclined not to include it in the future. If you have an opinion, please express it to Marv Pierce, next year's Tournament Director. (Of course, if I had come in first, I might feel different.) On the other hand, Dave Stone and Frank Motzkus did not win either, so maybe the game has some virtue, maybe we should play "in the box" every week.

My email provider has been sending some of your reply emails to my spam collector. So if you did not get a response and expected one, send your email again. I think my computer is telling me I need to get a better class of friends.

The results:

First, (Match of Cards) Kim Roberts & Bob Conen, net 72, each paid $25
